

Class-III, SCIENCE

Define: (book pg; 12)

1) Answer these questions:

- a) Herbivores are the animals that eat only plants.example: cow, goat , sheep
- b) Animals eat different types of food. So, they have different kinds of teeth and mouthparts according to their feeding habits.
- c) We can care of our pets by: (i)giving them proper food and shelter.(ii) treating them kindly
- d) We should care and protect plants and animalsas they form an important part of the food chain.

LESSON-2

SOIL

1) Define (pg no.23)

2) Answer these questions:

- a) Soil is important for the
 - (i) growth of plants
 - (ii) provides shelter to many insects and animals
- b) Soil is formed by breaking up of rocks, sun , wind, rain, and moving water.
- c) There are three kinds of soil:
 - a) Sandy soil- is made up of fine particles and has big gaps between them
 - b) Clayey soil- is made up of fine particles which stick together
 - c) Loamy soil- has equal amount of sand and clay
- d) Humus is the layer of soil which is made by decayed bodies of plants and animal in the soil.
- e) Loamy soil is best for the growth of plants.
- f) We can supply minerals by adding manure.
- g) Clayey soil is sticky in nature and is used in making earthen pots and toys.
- h) Rabbits,rats ,ants,earthworms and snakrs are few animals that make their homes in soil.

